GENTLEMEN :—

I should have written sooner in reference to your PLANE IRONS, but wishing to give them a thorough trial, I have deferred writing until I find it necessary for me to order a further supply.

Thus far I have found them to be full as good as the best English Irons: they all cut beautifully, and some of them I tried over knots and they stood it well. My hands, as well as myself, are working upon hard wood with your Irons, and they do so well that we could not wish for any thing better.

I have formerly tried Irons of American Manufacture, and they have so far failed in the temper, that I was obliged to abandon the use of them altogether, and I acknowledge that it was with much reluctance that I was induced to try yours; but I have now sent Planes with your Irons to some of my most particular customers. I have ground up and tried all of them without finding any deficiency, and have written that I was sure they were good and would warrant every one of them.

I am very happy to find as good a Plane Iron may be made in this country as in England, and as long as your Irons maintain their present standard, I shall not desire to use any other.

Yours, truly,

E. W. CARPENTER, Plane Manufacturer.

The Baldwin Tool Co.

Middletown, Conn.

Your favor with enquiries respecting my opinion of your PLANE IRONS, was duly received. In reply, I would say, that I have been making Planes for the last fifteen years for Carpenters themselves, and the retail trade. I have used both English and American Irons, with different degrees of success, often a complete failure, until eighteen months since, you induced me to try some of yours. I consider them in point of finish and temper, fully equal to any English Irons I have ever used, and they are ground with more precision than the generality of English Irons. I now use none but your Irons, which give entire satisfaction to my customers.

Yours, respectfully,

OBED ANDRUS, Plane Maker.

This is to certify, that I have been for the past six months, using the Plane Irons of the BALDWIN TOOL Co., and have found them, in all respects, equal in quality to the best imported Irons, having had ample opportunity of seeing them thoroughly tested by use.

GENTLEMEN—

We had abandoned the use of American Plane Irons altogether, and with much hesitation consented to try those of your manufacture. We find them, after repeated trials, to be far superior to any other Plane Irons made in this country, and confidently recommend them to our customers, as being equal to the best English Irons.

Very respectfully, yours,
